

Advertising and product design

This project for a large gasoline company was for a summer promotion last year. I designed the balls, the advertising, and the brochure. The style was meant to be simple and eye-catching, as the posters are viewed by drivers quickly driving past.

development work

8ft poster

poster for display on petrol pump

window poster

brochure