

Packaging Design

These chocolate box designs were used by our client (UBNA) for their Easter promotion in 2003. We also won the project for the following year based on the success of the product. This year's boxes are shown bottom right.

The other images show some of the development stages.

Last year's design

This year's design

