

Mocked up samples

I created this label to be part of a presentation by our client (Tetley) to Walmart. Initially I developed some designs and working with the client I narrowed it down to the final design. The mocked up tins are being used to sell the whole concept into Walmart - and may well be used in production if the idea is successful.

